NEW BOOKS IN THE LIBRARY

THE COOPERAGE HANDBOOK, by F. P. Hankerson. Chemical Pub. Co., 1947. 192p.
99.77 H19

This book gives all the necessary information on the manufacture of barrels, their proper choice, their handling and storage, when and what kind of lining to use and how to apply it to the barrel.

FARM BUILDINGS, by J. C. Wooley. McGraw-Hill, 1946. 354p. 296 W83

The present-day consolidation of farms requires refitting of the buildings to the new arrangement. Because increased use of labor saving machinery makes less man power available for work around buildings, efficient buildings, yards, gates, and arrangement of buildings are more essential than ever before. Additional information on these problems is included in this new edition of Farm Buildings.

FARM ORGANIZATION AND MANAGEMENT, by G. W. Forster. Prentice-Hall, 1946. 490p.
281.12 F77

In this revised edition, in addition to bringing the statistics up-to-date where it seemed advisable, certain additions have been made in the subject matter. Two chapters on farm accounting have been added and other chapters have been enriched by new data.

FOR THIS WE FOUGHT, by Stuart Chase. Twentieth Century Fund, 1946. 123p. 289.12
C38F

The sixth and last of a series of reports written for the Twentieth Century Fund by Stuart Chase to give the general reader a dynamic understanding of the great issues of postwar America. The former titles were: The Road We Are Traveling: 1944-1942, Goals for America, Where's the Money Coming From: Problems of Postwar Finance, Democracy Under Pressure: Special Interests vs the Public Welfare, and Tomorrow's Trade: Problems of Our Foreign Commerce.

MARKETING FARM PRODUCTS, by G. S. Shepherd. Iowa State College Press, 1946.
445p. 280.3 Sh4H

"The purpose of this book is to present and analyze the new marketing developments in a systematic way, to show what they mean in economic terms, and to show how producers and consumers can make the best use of the opportunities which these new developments create." The book is divided into three parts: The Physical Production and Distributive Plant, Meeting Fluctuations in Market Prices, and Reducing the Costs of Marketing.

NEW RICHES FROM THE SOIL: THE PROGRESS OF CHEMISTRY, by Wheeler McMillen. Van Nostrand, 1946. 397p. 388 M22

The amazing story of how agriculture, science and industry have combined to produce untold new wealth in this country today.

PSYCHOLOGY IN ACTION, by Joseph Clawson. Macmillan, 1946. 289p. 140 C57
An entertaining, instructive and practical book on applied psychology by a man who says "You can change human nature." And in the book he tells you precisely how he thinks it can be done.

TRACE ELEMENTS IN PLANTS AND ANIMALS, by Walter Stiles. Macmillan, 1946. 189p.
395 St5

This book was written to present a digest of information made available during the last twenty years on the part played by the trace elements in the life of plants and animals.

TURKEY MANAGEMENT, by S. J. Marsden and J. H. Martin. Interstate, 1946. 773p.
47.3 M35

This fourth revision of a popular book on turkey management contains chapters on the origin and history of the turkey, turkey shows, breeding principles and practices, management and feeding of breeding stock, artificial incubation, artificial brooding and rearing, feeds and feeding, marketing, malformation and bad habits, diseases, etc.
